Respected sir,

I received your orders for delivering certain records connected with the question of re-entertaining the servants of the Sri Janardhana-Swami Temple at Mandya & a bell kept in the said Temple Previous to receiving this order, Venkadachar, ~~the~~ who is doing the duties of Parpatteyar of the said Janardhanaswami Temple produced before me a Summons received by him from the High Court of Madras asking him to produce the bell. As the bell was in his possession at the I did not know that it possessed a history of its own, I permitted him to take the bell to Madras on his own responsibility and return it afterwards.

I came back to this District on 11th December 1907 and as such I did not know that this bell was such a valuable thing.
Only its market value i.e. its metallic value suggested itself to me and that the requisition from the High Court was meant to exhibition the time of its presentation to, however, the arms from Mr Krishnamurthi of your office of the Bank and reduce [illegible], I have sent an Official of the Bank with to bring it back & present it before you. The Venkatadri
